

Pass the Story

You need paper and pens for this one. While sitting in a circle each person gets a piece of paper and pen. They then follow your direction on what to write. They are going to write a story. After each part everyone folds over the section they just wrote and passes it to the right for the person beside them to write the next section. An example story could be:

Part 1 - What is the main characters name? (Steve) What does he like to do? (Steve Like to play soccer) Part 2 - The main character is somewhere.(He is at the video store) Someone offers him something. (an X-rated movie) Part 3 - What does the main character do? what happens? (he eats it. It was tasty) Part 4 - how does the story end (ride off into the sunset etc.)

You can relate the story to whatever the focus of the workshop is.